Indian Office Move Clears Area for Spa

Eight Acre Area To Be Readied For Development

Another major step to clear the eight acres of land between Tahquitz and Andreas on the east side of Indian Avenue, was taken today by the Agua Caliente Tribe and the Bureau of Indian Affairs with the announcement that the bureau is moving into new offices in the A. K. Paul Building on Industrial Place.

The new offices, which will contain space for the nine-person staff of the local bureau, as well as council chambers for the Indian Tribal Council, will be open for business Monday morning.

NED MITCHELL, real estate officer for the local bureau, said that there would be very little if any interruption in business.

The Tribal Council will hold a special meeting in the new chambers next Tuesday.

With the announcement of the moving of the bureau, Mitchell said that termination of the Hot Mineral Bathhouse lease had been instigated at the request of the present operator, and would become effective the end of the month. Also, the Springs Trailer Park, 174 North Indian Avenue, has been served with an eviction notice, and the store building at Indian and Andreas is now on a month to month permit, as are the homes along Andreas.

THE OLD BUREAU quarters will be torn down, and the Tribe is currently contemplating the moving of the Tribal garage to a new location.

The clearing of the land will make way for the development of a new Spa Hotel on the eight acres, announcement of which is expected to be made in a few weeks.

THE NEW BUREAU quarters on Industrial Place are completely refurbished and cooled by refrigeration. The offices contain a total of 1,700 square feet, and will house the equalization staff, Indian agents, bureau secretaries, and a meeting room for the Agua Caliente Tribal Council.

The bureau will have two telephone numbers listed for the offices, 5424 (which is the same as the present one), and 6911.

Nicaragua, Honduras Near War

Border Incident Brings Threat Close to Reality

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A 50-year-old border dispute between Nicaragua and Honduras threatened today to blow up into a full-fledged war.

Nicaragua said 35 of its soldiers were killed in a frontier attack by Honduran troops and planes.

HONDURAS WARNED its civilian population against possible air attacks by Nicaragua.

President Luis Somoza announced the casualty toll Wednesday night a few hours after he was sworn in as chief of state. He went into immediate conference with his brother, Gen. Anastasio Somoza, and other officials.

THE PRESIDENT said a superior force of Honduran soldiers supported by five airplanes attacked a Nicaraguan national guard patrol at Mocorron between 8 a.m. and noon Wednesday.

Thirty-five Nicaraguans were killed, two captured and the rest fled, he said.

The attack came just 12 hours after Gen. Somoza, national guard head, called off an armed force alert on the grounds that Honduras was seeking a peaceful solution to the dispute through the organization of American states.

McLeod Given 9 to 6 Approval By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today voted 9-6 to approve the controversial nomination of Scott McLeod as ambassador to Ireland.

Six Democrats voted against the State Department security chief, according to members who left the closed door session early.

McLeod was supported by all seven Republican committee members and Democratic Sens. Mike Mansfield (Mont.) and Russell B. Long (La.), it was reported.

The committee voted to send the controversial nomination to the Senate floor for confirmation after defeating, 9-6, a motion to postpone action.

Hundreds of Students Back Teacher in Fight

In a spontaneous demonstration of loyalty, hundreds of Palm Springs High School students today cast their energetic support behind Mathematics Teacher John Wright's campaign for reinstatement in the school district.

Students circulated and autographed dozens of petitions asking the Board of Education to re-hire the 32-year-old high school teacher for the 1957-58 school year.

WRIGHT, who said he had resisted "pressures to resign," was dismissed by the board last week on recommendation of Schools Supt. Wallace R. Muelder.

Listed on school records as a probationary employee, Wright has taught at the high school for the past two years.

Wright, a World War II Marine veteran, today told The Desert Sun that he will take his fight for reinstatement back to the school board. He said he would ask the board for a special hearing.

THE DISGRUNTLED teacher claimed that his dismissal was the result of pressure brought to bear on district officials by "an influential minority" of students.

He charged that he was pressured into resigning by Muelder and was finally terminated on charges of "incompetence and personality deficiencies."

"Mr. Muelder told me last week that he thought I'd be better off in a larger school district," Wright asserted. "I was told six or seven parents had complained that my assignments were too stiff for the students."

WRIGHT SAID he refused to resign and denied the charges of incompetency. He claimed he had no indication of the charges beforehand and that no one had criticized his teaching methods in the past.

In reply to the "pressure" charge made by Wright, Muelder said today: "When anyone is given the opportunity to resign it is difficult to admit that it is a 'pressure'."

MUELDER ALSO noted that "as far as I'm concerned, it's his See STUDENTS, Page 2"

THE WEATHER

Desert area forecast: Partly cloudy with few showers likely Inyo County today. Otherwise mostly sunny today and Friday. Winds gusty and reaching 25-40 miles an hour at times. Little temperature change. Highs today 75-90 upper valleys, 90-100 lower valleys.

Yesterday's high was 95, low, 49.

Warning Comes From Adm. Burke

Testifies Before House Committee On Appropriations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Russia would destroy each other in an atomic war, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, has warned.

The United States now has the nuclear weapons for "complete destruction" of Russia and the Soviet Union either now has or will soon have the "capability of doing the same thing to us," Burke said.

WITH "MUTUAL destruction" in prospect from nuclear war, Burke said "there is apt to be some sort of stalemate where neither side dares to start a war because it will result in destroying the whole northern hemisphere."

Gen Nathan F. Twining, soon to become chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, warned that this situation increases the danger of "limited war" because "the Soviets have acquired a greater capability to wage general war and can, therefore, undertake limited aggression with less fear of total retaliation."

THE COMMENTS by Burke and Twining, outgoing Air Force chief of staff, were contained in a heavily censored 1331-page transcript of testimony by defense officials on President Eisenhower's $38,500,000,000 defense budget for the new fiscal year.

A House appropriations subcommittee heard the testimony behind closed doors recently and made public the transcript today.

BURKE TOLD the subcommittee:

"I think the people in the Kremlin recognize that it would be suicide for Russia if she were to start a nuclear war because there is nothing she could do to prevent us from destroying her."

"In a general war situation, we can destroy Russia now no matter what she does. She cannot avoid it. We can destroy her by several different means. We have different ways of doing it. There is no way she can avoid complete destruction."

"Either she has a capability now or shortly will have the capability of doing the same thing to us."

Adenauer Warns Russia of War

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer warned today that a modern atomic war would bring "an apocalyptic fate" upon all mankind, including the peoples of the Soviet block.

Adenauer, speaking at the opening session of the NATO Council of Ministers, delivered this appeal to the Kremlin leaders:

"If your concern about the danger of an atomic war is serious, then agree to the worldwide, effective international control of atomic disarmament proposed by the West."

Late News Bulletins

BULLETIN — Desert Turf Club Vice President Henry Gogerty today predicted that desert quarterhorse racing would start this year, the last of November and first part of December, as more than 75 desert community officials witnessed groundbreaking ceremonies for a $1 million Del Sol Road race track this noon. Gogerty said the track will be finished by November and he expects the state racing commission to set a 20-day racing schedule, plus three days for charity events.

WASHINGTON UP — Supporters of federal aid for school construction won a tentative victory in Congress today.

Four Redistricting Plans Prepared By Commission

Palm Springs City Council will receive a preview of four proposed plans for redistricting of Palm Springs Councilmatic districts next Wednesday, and on the same day the Planning Commission will hold an informal public hearing on the proposed plans.

Four different proposals have been drawn by the local Planning Department, and The Desert Sun will publish copies of the plans before the informal hearing.

In other action the Planning Commission continued to May 15 an application by California Electric Company to erect a power substation on the south side of Mabrey Road, about 500 feet east of Palm Canyon Drive.

The request for continuance of the hearing was made by Attorney Erl D. Bret, representing Indian land owners in the area, who are objecting to the installation.

One Bid Received For Substation

Only one bid was submitted for operation of a Post Office Station in the south part of the Village, Postmaster Merritt Williams reported today.

Sole bidder was Charles Brown, of 376 South Palm Canyon, who currently operates the existing south station.

'Meanest People' Tag Given To Village Pet Abandoners

Candidates for the title of "meanest people of the season" are those individuals who abandon their pets when they leave Palm Springs.

That's the opinion of the Palm Springs Animal Protective League which today issued a special plea urging visitors to at least find a home for their pets if they no longer wish to keep them.

LEAGUE OFFICERS noted that many abandoned dogs have been placed in the city animal shelter. Most of these have been destroyed because shelter space is inadequate for the care of so many animals.

Villagers seeking pets are urged to visit the shelter on East Ramon Road to "give one of these waiting little dogs a home."

Beck, Ex-Senator Duff Split Up Prior to Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamster's President Dave Beck and his "eminent counsel," former Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.), have split up.

Beck said in a statement issued by his office late Wednesday night that he has disassociated with Duff and his law firm.

THE STATEMENT also said Beck would appear before the Senate Rackets Committee next Wednesday. Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) Wednesday ordered Beck to appear before the group.

Area Business Group Encounters Difficulty

The end to the Cathedral City Area Business Association was very near yesterday, as members met to nominate a new slate of officers to run the association for the coming year, and had difficulty finding candidates.

The nominating committee presented a list of eight to 100 nominations for the four offices of the organization, and each proposed candidate declined to run.

ORVILLE ZAPPE, chairman of the nominating committee, asked that nominations be made from the floor, and out of possibly 15 nominations, the association just barely obtained a slate of officers.

Accepting the nomination, the candidates (except in one case) expressed the desire not to run unless the organization worked with them. Orville Zappe, who was nominated for the presidency, said he would accept if he could count on the backing of the membership, but added that if he did not have the backing, would "resign" the position.

MRS. ALICE OTTO, the present secretary and nominated again to the position, accepted by saying that it did not take too much time and she was glad to be of service.

Joe Illig, present treasurer, was re-nominated, but told the group that he would be gone most of the summer, and didn't think he should take on the task, but did not refuse the nomination.

DR. W. J. HARRISON, nominated for vice president, who is a practicing M.D. in Cathedral City, said that although his time was not his own, he wanted to see the community support the association.

Speaker at the meeting was Don Starkey, engineer for Palm Springs Translator Stations, who asked the group's backing of the new media, and reported on the operation of the station. He said that the stations now have about $12,500 of the necessary $16,000 in donations to complete the initial outlay for the equipment. As soon as more donations are collected, three additional stations will be in service, he added.

NEW OFFICERS of the Cathedral City Area Business Association were nominated at yesterday's luncheon meeting at the Monte Cito Cafe at Trumview. The nominated officers are, seated, Orville Zappe, president; Alice Otto, secretary; Joe Illig, treasurer; and Dr. W. J. Harrison, vice president. This will be Zappe's second term as he was the first president of the Association. (Sun Photo).

Benson Attacks Present Farm Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today that present production control and price support laws for farm products are obsolete and "are not working."

He said it is the "responsibility of Congress" to do something about it.

While pointing out failures of present law, Benson did not come forward with a few farm programs of his own. But he offered to counsel with Congress in providing remedial legislation.

HIS COMMENTS were contained in a 2,000-word letter to Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee. The letter was supplemented by a 3,000-word department statement titled "need for reappraisal of farm price support and production control programs."

The secretary said the soil bank and the surplus disposal programs are the "two biggest and most extensive operations in the history of agriculture."

HE SAID PRESENT price-support levels, 90 to 75 per cent of parity, "have aggravated farmers' marketing problems" and indicated that the present 75 per cent price support floor should be junked.

The principle of flexible price supports, in the 90 to 75 range, is the backbone of the Benson sponsored farm law adopted in 1954.

The cost of farm programs from fiscal 1952 through fiscal 1956 totaled $11,753,700,000, Benson said. He said this "heavy" expenditure has made "little or no contribution to the problem of low income farmers, in whose name farm programs are frequently defended."

Ohio Legislator Embarrassed, Opposes Own Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Life's most embarrassing moment."

That's what happened to State Rep. John J. Connors Jr. in the Ohio House Wednesday.

By mistake, the Toledo Republican voted against his own bill. Red-faced Connors had to request unanimous consent of the House to have the final tally changed.

Although a chorus of "objections" was heard, temporary presiding officer Harold Oyster of Marietta said:

"Hearing no objections, the request is granted."

Connors explained he had voted "No" so many times that he pressed his voting button the wrong way.

The bill, which passed 99 to 13, permits state liquor stores to have a breakage allowance.

prerogative" to seek a hearing before the school board.

In relation to Wright's alleged incompetency, Muelder said he felt that it was a matter for the district's personal files and should not be aired except in professional discussion.

Wright said his dismissal was a contradiction of Principal Henry Greeley's recommendation that he be reemployed on a permanent basis by the school district.

THE MATHEMATICS instructor said he was carrying his fight to the Parent-Teachers Association as well as the School Board.

"All I want is a chance to be heard by the parents," Wright said. "If they agree with the charges, I'll leave quietly."

Wright said he would stay with his campaign as long as he could. "If I lose, I might just as well give up teaching," he said. "And teaching is my life."

WRIGHT SAID he came to Palm Springs at the invitation of the school district.

He previously taught at San Diego junior and senior high schools and junior college for four years. He was also employed by the Pacific Beach Adult Evening School.

Wright, who had planned to finish his thesis for a master's degree this summer, took his bachelor's degree at Southern Idaho College and carried out post-graduate studies at San Diego State College and Oregon's Linfield College.

During his service at San Diego, Wright produced a curriculum guide for secondary students and published a text book analysis.

DURING HIS TENURE at Palm Springs he has participated in several student activities and has initiated various curriculum projects which, he said, were designed to aid mathematics instruction.

He was instrumental in bringing the national P-T-A into Palm Springs. In his off-duty hours, Wright is a Palm Springs Police Reserve officer and a Sunday School teacher.

Airliner Lands With Engine Afire

LONDON (AP)—A Constellation airliner with 59 persons aboard flew into London Airport from New York Tuesday night with smoke and flame spewing from an engine.

Capt. R. W. Picotte of Brookfield, Conn., brought the plane down safely.

Experts said the fire broke out in the outer right engine when oil flowed through a broken seal onto the red hot turbine exhaust.

Mayflower Moves Slowly to U.S.

LONDON (AP)—The Pilgrim ship Mayflower II made its way slowly along the sweeping southern route to America today, hampered by diminishing winds.

The 90-foot square-rigged galloon which has been making five to eight knots on its voyage to Plymouth Rock, Mass., slowed to just two knots Wednesday at a point 170 miles southwest of Madeira.

Red Cross Head Says Services May Be Curtailed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther said today the American Red Cross is in "very serious financial trouble" and may have to curtail its services to suffering humanity.

The former NATO European commander, who became president of the Red Cross early this year, told the United Press he has ordered the dismissal of 300 paid employees and a cut of $2,250,000 in the administrative budget of the national organization.

UNLESS THE American people contribute more liberally to the Red Cross than they have so far this year, he said, he will be forced to make further budget cuts which will "directly affect" such traditional programs as disaster relief and aid to servicemen.

Gruenther revealed in a two-hour exclusive interview that he has given up hope of reaching the $5 million dollars goal which the Red Cross set for its 1957 fund-raising drive. Although the drive has been in progress for two months instead of the customary one, contributions, to date total only 78 million dollars.

Red Cross chapters have been urged to "keep trying" through May, but Gruenther conceded that "We'll be lucky to get up to $5 million dollars."

FAILURE OF THIS year's drive to reach its goal is particularly serious, he said, because the disaster reserve fund which pulled the Red Cross through past years is now exhausted.

Outlays for disaster relief have been running far above normal for several years in a row, he said. The past fiscal year, with heavy floods in New England and the West Coast, "really beat our brains out."

Heart Bank Is Predicted For the Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—A distinguished biologist believes the day is coming when a person with a bad heart can go to the "bank" and get a replacement.

He also foresees a time when "tailor made" molecules will be available for such purposes as controlling human conception, sex and growth.

The biologist, Dr. Ralph W. Gerard of the University of Michigan, addressed a scientific colloquium at the National Science Foundation here.

He said biology has come a long way since it was christened in 1802. It is now "at the explosion point" and is expanding rapidly into the realm of physical, psychological and social science.

Blood, bone, eye and cartilage banks already have proved practical. Gerard believes kidney, liver and heart banks will follow although some of the technical problems admittedly are great. Gerard said.

Jail Inmate Time Off Condition Set

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Jail inmates would get a break under a bill passed Tuesday by the Assembly. The measure would permit persons serving terms of more than 30 days in city or county jails to donate a pint of blood and receive eight days off their sentences.

Mosquitos can breed in any water that stands for four or five days.

Pinza Suffers Third Attack

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Operatic basso Ezio Pinza, who suffered his third heart attack Wednesday was reported resting "a comfortably as can be expected" today.

Pinza's wife, who gave the report, would not say how serious the latest attack was. Pinza's doctor declined to comment on the seizure, which the 64-year-old singer suffered at his home.

Ambulance attendants administered oxygen to Pinza and he was later placed in an oxygen tent. The musical comedy and opera star was not hospitalized, however.

San Francisco Police Seek Second Hit-Run Death Driver

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Another San Francisco man lost his life today to a hit-run driver.

The latest victim was Umberto Meda, 64, a retired Nicaraguan businessman. He died in Mission emergency hospital at 1:10 a. m., three hours after an auto struck him down in an intersection.

"I turned around in time to see a man rolling into the curb on the south side of the intersection," Meda said.

The death car roared down Valencia Street, turned right on 24th and disappeared from view, Moraga said.

F. K. Tillman, 57, said he heard the crash while in his apartment. He said he heard a car speed away with a rumbling exhaust.

Kuchel Announces Service Test Schedul for Indio

Competitive examinations for young men seeking nomination to the United States Air Force and Merchant Marine Academies were today scheduled for July 15 in 45 California cities.

Tests for desert area applicants will be given at Indio.

SEN. THOMAS KUCHEL said he will nominate 10 aspirants for consideration by the Air Force and Maritime Administration as members of classes to begin in summer, 1958.

"Uncle John" Is Coming To Town

Senator Kuchel noted that he has no vacancies for 1958 in either the military academy at West Point or the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Candidates for the Air Force Academy must be between the ages of 17 and 22 at the time they would enter. Top age limit for the Maritime Academy is 21 at the time of admission.

COMPETITIVE TESTS will be given by the Civil Service Commission. To obtain admission to the examination, candidates must notify the senator not later than May 15 where they wish to take the test.

Senator Kuchel will make his choices late this year following reports on scholastic and physical examinations.

Brightened Outlook for Pest Control Told To Convention

A brightened outlook for biological control of California's insect pests will be described tomorrow at the annual meeting of the State Association of County Agricultural Commissioners now being held here.

Curtis P. Clausen, chairman of the statewide department of biological control, University of California, will outline a program of expanded operations against major farm pests such as the spotted alfalfa aphid, caterpillars, red mites, forest insects and the Egyptian clover weevil.

OTHER BIOLOGICAL control talks will be given by Dr. Blair R. Bartlett, associate entomologist on the Riverside campus, and James K. Holloway, U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologist associated with the department. Speakers at yesterday's session included Dr. Herman T. Spieth, provost of the Riverside campus; W. C. Jacobsen, director of the California Department of Agriculture; and Paul J. Anderson, chairman of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors.

ALSO ON TAP for tomorrow's meeting is a review by James R. Dutton, regional supervisor in the U.S.D.A.'s Agricultural Research Service, of problems involved in pest control in California.

PANAMA CANAL
MAY BE NEXT

The success of Egyptian President Nasser in gaining national sovereignty over the Suez Canal seems to have been contagious. At least it gave Ernesto de La Guardia of Panama an idea. He is quoted as saying that his government intends to "resume complete sovereignty" over the Panama Canal and its surrounding zone.

In view of the friendly relations between Panama and the United States the news was not very alarming. Probably the sovereign-like authority which this country has exercised over the canal since 1903 can be renegotiated to the satisfaction of both countries.

It was in 1903 that a treaty between the United States and the then young republic of Panama established the right of the United States to build and operate the Panama Canal. Authority was also granted the United States to exercise in the canal zone "all the rights it would possess if it were sovereign."

Under the treaty Panama is given joint right for the defense of the canal. Just what arrangement President de La Guardia has in mind as to complete sovereignty is not clear. It is perfectly clear to everyone, however, that the canal zone is a highly important sea and land base for the defense of the United States and the entire Western Hemisphere.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Is There An Engineering Shortage?

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman James Patrick Sinnott Devereux (R-Md.) was accused by his Democratic opponent last November of being a do-nothing fellow who'd made only two speeches during the 84th Congress.

"I don't know where he gets that way," Jimmy Devereux told me in a hurt and puzzled tone. "I can only remember making one speech."

AS A MAN OF action, Devereux gets important things done and lets the hokum of the spoken and written word fall where it may. When Marine Brig. General Devereux, hero of Wake Island, got back from the wars, I asked him if he'd really said: "Send us more Japs." He replied with seriousness: "I don't think so. We already had too many."

When he does say something, which is rare, Devereux says it without heretics, and when he has a pet Congressional project it is sure to be, like the battle of Wake Island, something for the long-term good of the country.

FOR SOME TIME now, Devereux, as a member of the House Armed Services committee, has been fighting an obscure but important skirmish to establish a common technical language among the 26 aircraft firms which do business with the Federal Government.

At a committee hearing last January, Devereux pointed out to Air Force Secretary Quarles that each aircraft firm had its own semi-secret code for its drafting room manuals. This means that engineers and workers, transferring from one plant to another, often require two months training to make the transition. The same sort of time-lag occurs when work is farmed out from a large aircraft plant to a small shop. Devereux asked Secretary Quarles if he knew this to be so.

QUARLES: "I happen to be, from my own experience, quite familiar with that problem, General Devereux, and, in fact, with the whole related problem of standardization of parts and standardization of designs. It is a very important thing. I must say I am glad to see you pressing for it."

Devereux has kept pressing, but the resistance is considerable. Part of it is a parochial attitude on the part of the aircraft firms and several large sub-contractors. They are unwilling to have their ideas escape into the common stream of knowledge. This attitude dates back 50 years to a time when the aviation pioneers were in cut-throat competition.

ANOTHER FACTOR is a stubborn doubt, both in business and Congress as to the authority of Congress in this field. Does the Federal Government have any right to demand the free spread of aviation information about dimensions, tolerances, disposition of parts and so forth?

There is clearly no right under the authority of Constitutional law. But Devereux feels that the matter does not belong on that elevated plane. The Federal Government in this instance is the chief customer, sometimes the only customer of these aircraft firms.

The customer can insist on being "always right." He can lay down the terms of contract.

THE MAIN RESULT of the language barrier among aircraft manufacturers has been to create a false impression of an engineering shortage in the United States. Devereux has learned from engineering experts that it is the time-lag, rather than the scarcity of technical talents, which limits the flow of capable young men from the universities to the aircraft plants. One engineer has told Devereux:

"I, personally, have had more than 20 years of progressive experience behind me. I have been at my present assignment for nearly two years, and yet — so help me! — I still am not thoroughly familiar with all the picayune differences in my current employer's Drafting Room Manual.

"NOW IF THIS can happen to an engineer of long experience, consider, if you will, the plight of the new engineering graduate. This young man has spent 4 or 5 years in intensive preparation. Upon graduation he is employed by one of our major aircraft factories, and what does he find?

His textbooks on engineering drawing have been practically tossed out the window in favor of an individualistic means of presentation. I sincerely believe that a standardization of Drafting Room Manuals will drastically cut this waste of engineering talent and, in doing so, will increase our engineering product by as much as 50 per cent."

A 50 per cent increase! Even if this is an optimistic estimate, the promise of a gratifying result is very high. Anything we can do to make more economical use of our home talent and industrial capacity is of major significance.

DEVEREUX SEES a shortening of the time between the ordering and the production of new planes. He sees the saving of many millions of dollars in the speeding up of the work.

His final obstacle turns out to be Defense Secretary Wilson, who isn't convinced, despite much evidence, that any engineer can't read any given set of blueprints. But Devereux has managed to bypass the Wilsonian bulk by appealing to the Armed Services Committee Chairman, Carl Vinson, an old-timer with long experience in military obstinance. Vinson has ordered a formal House investigation of why the aircraft manufacturers, 50 years after Kitty Hawk, are still communicating in separate technical languages.

W. C. Wentworth, a member of the Australian Parliament, has made a proposal, drawn from the tradition of Mahatma Gandhi, that dramatically shows what the UN might do if its members could somehow lift themselves above the level of international bureaucracy. We quote from the letter that he has made public in his country:

"The time has surely come when the General Assembly itself has both the right and the duty to convene in Budapest and to rebuke by its physical presence those who deny life and liberty to their fellow men.

"Therefore let the Delegates to the United Nations Assembly gather unarmed on the Hungarian frontier, and march peacefully across it, giving thereby a moral lead to the world in deeds as well as in words.

"If they should be subjected to obstruction, indignity, or murder, then at least the whole world would know the nature of the threat which faces it, and the Hungarian people would know that they do not suffer alone.

"The Delegates are the accredited representatives of humanity, and, in the present crisis, must be prepared to discharge their duties without thought of personal risk, like any soldier in the firing line or any citizen in the Budapest streets.

"If some of the religious leaders of the world would walk across the frontier together with the Assembly, they would be acting in conformity with the traditions which they guard.

"Since nobody should suggest such a venture unless he himself is prepared to share in it, I would add that I would be willing to accept appointment as Australian Delegate to the United Nations for this purpose."

We should very greatly like to hear a comment on this proposal from our own Delegate to the United Nations, Mr. Lodge.

The reporters type so neatly
The linotypes click so sweetly
The proof readers work in profound
Then out comes the paper
Air's full of blue vapor
The way the darn type slipped around.

Naturally, no one is to blame when a booboo appears. It was all right the last time they looked.

But when one does appear—there are a dozen people in town who apparently are excellent proof-readers.

CITY COUNCIL meeting at the Chi Chi the other noon to discuss city affairs, approved a plan for a sales month. Someone suggested the name "End of the Season Sale" which was promptly frowned down. Because "season" is just a swank name now. There isn't any season in the meaning of the word. Palm Springs is now an all-year resort. So they, the council, fished around for a name.

THEN UP POPS our Mr. Fred C. Weigel.

"Why not," he asked, "go along with the Stay Through May idea?"

"Put a 'Stay Through May' tag on the sale."

Seemed such a good idea that maybe the long campaign conducted by The Sun for the merry month of May is going to take on an added meaning.

THIS DEAL, according to preliminary discussion, is to make the period from April 15 to May a "Stay Through May" sale.

But there had to be some levity. Jerry Bunker, city attorney, discussing Stay Through May, said "there'll be room in June" after which Dick DeLong, administrative assistant to City Manager Bob Peterson suggested: "And fly in July."

All I gotta say that if go you must, wait 'til August.

THERE ARE PILLS that make you drowsy, there are pills that calm your nerves. But the pills I'm hearing about lately are those that wean you from cigarettes. According to what Earle Strebe tells me, you take one and a cigarette tastes worse than in the old cornsilk days. He planned to try them.

Zaddie Bunker, who overheard the conversation, said there's only one way a person can really quit smoking.

And that is to want to, she said.

RELATED congratulations to the men who bestowed the name "Indian Wells" on our newest golf course. I mean. It fits nicely in a headline. I think all clubs and other organizations should keep an eye on publicity when choosing names. Pick something that will fit into a headline cozily in big type. If the name is too long, the editor either has to slim it down into initials or use smaller type.

That's why, as I've said before, as a life-long headline writer I always favored the late Senator Robert Taft. That name, with its skinny 'f' and 't' fit into a headline easily.

Look who's talking—Grettinger —10 letters, yet.

INEZ ROBB:

Car, Not House

It is one woman's opinion that since World War II American automobiles have become constantly bigger, but not better. Not by a long sight! The streets and the highways are now filled with motorized monsters that even five years ago would have been readily associated with flying saucers and men from Mars.

So I rejoice in the announcement that the Studebaker-Packard Corporation is preparing not only to produce a relatively inexpensive car, but by American standards, but a small one.

THIS MEANS THAT two U. S. manufacturers, Studebaker-Packard and the American Motors Corporation, with its Metropolitan, will be offering the home folks compact cars in competition with the smaller European cars that have become increasingly popular in recent years.

It seems to me there is a spreading revolt against the swollen cars, ever wider, lower and faster put out year after year. I have been hoping the manufacturers of these behemoths of the highways would get up and produce something a little smaller than a Mark IV tank and slightly less unyielding in traffic.

BUT SO FAR they have shrugged off the handwriting on the wall. They have chosen to interpret the purchase of small foreign cars by American drivers as a whim and to dismiss it as a mere fraction of the total auto population.

They are right about that fraction. But they had better put and smoke the fact that the fraction doubled in 1956. In the past, clouds no bigger than a spark-plug have zoomed into economic hurricanes.

Aside from being an aesthetic affront, the average 1957 car is ridiculous in appearance. It has outgrown the pre-World War II garage and has further complicated the most serious domestic problem in the national life: The eternal quest for a place to park.

GRANTED THAT there will always be people who want pink juggernauts, nonetheless, does the Average American want a car for transportation or for light housekeeping?

Frankly, I have enough housekeeping without acquiring a Pullman with built-in bar and teevee, convertible beds, vanity mirrors, perfume atomizers, typewriter desk, dictaphone panel, matched luggage, clothes rack, kiddie coop and picnic equipment, including outdoor grill and an electric outlet for percolator, hot plate, bottle warmer, automatic mixer and—for the fastidious—electric razor.

WHEN I GET into a car — and they're now so low this is both problematic and athletic — I just want to ride; I don't want to keep house. Cars are already so low that you can't get out and get under without first jacking 'em up. If they get any lower, we shall have to enter 'em on all fours.

I think the smaller car has a future in America and that America ought to have a hand in that future. Just for an added starter, the big-car manufacturers might go into executive session and ponder the fate of that prehistoric biggie, the dinosaur. Its size couldn't save it when it outlived its day.

Editor, The Desert Sun:

I am a home owner of Palm Springs. I saw in The Desert Sun about the Community Television trying to stop the Translator Company from broadcasting to us free news and programs, which some of us had to do without.

The Community Television had promised us that all of Palm Springs would have television in 1956, however, they failed us. We could have had television if I would pay for a transformer, which they said would cost $900. I like the service the Translator is giving me, and I hope that they will keep up the good work. If you ever meet up with one Hank Gogerty you certainly will be charmed by his courtly, gentle and polite manner and his eager willingness to listen to your story. But if you know that man as I do and many other friends do, you will take into account all of the above, but in addition within the man there lies an indomitable iron will to win anything he undertakes.

To those who know him well all of his characteristic attributes are taken for granted, but to the discerning eye of the stranger, it must be pointed out that when Mother Nature moulded his face, that chin—its square and fighting—those eyes of his which can change from a caressing softness to hard piercing steel under beetling eyebrows that seem to set the face off—the physiognomy of his is a dead giveaway.

THE DEAD GIVEAWAY of a man who will never give up—and who never says "die," and who is wrapped up in an enormous amount of personal energy. To me he has always appeared as a man who walks on coiled springs with a body as agile as that of a youngster.

We are witnessing this bit about Hank Gogerty, owner of the Desert Air Hotel down Rancho Mirage way, because he just won a victory before the Riverside County Board of Supervisors — a victory which sagged close to the grounds except in the corner where Gogerty held fast and most determinedly.

IT WAS FIVE years ago when Hank noticed quite a commotion down on the runway of his Desert Air Hotel. Investigation showed that two horse lovers, Bartender Lloyd Pate and John Mawson were about to hold a matched quarterhorse race. Hank noticed the gallery too, and when he sat down to talk to Mawson who is just that way about quarterhorses—Hank started looking around for a racing site.

That was the beginning of the war, with many battles in between until the final one was decided before the Supervisors the other day. Every one knows of the opposition Gogerty ran into. Some of his neighbors objected. Some of the residents living more than a mile from the Del Sol road site of the proposed track raised their voices in objection.

COUNTY SUPERVISOR William Jones, sitting as chairman, and with the majority of the votes of the board in his pocket, turned the Riverside Planning Commission down when it recommended that a permit for the racing plant be granted. But everybody knows that Willie Jones and company vetoed most everything for this side of Riverside County.

Hank decided to appeal to the Superior Court and the trial was set before a San Bernardino County judge. Then there were those hearings before the California State Racing Commission. Hank's application was turned down the first time. But he came back fighting and a second hearing was granted right here in Palm Springs. At the same time a group of thoroughbred racing fans had filed for a permit to hold racing right here in Palm Springs. The meeting of both applicants took place before the Commission.

HANK GOGERTY won. He won in court too, but the company of Jones and others refused to heed the instructions of the court. Up to the appellate court went Gogerty, doggedly determined.

He owns 245 acres on Del Sol Road and there he envisioned racing plant for quarterhorse racing and other events. He plans to use only 160 acres of this property and there is going to be a racing plant there come —or high water. And that will be about the time our next Winter season rolls around.

"SURE I'M HAPPY to have won," Gogerty exploded. "Why not? I've been fighting for this plant for a long time. And when we break ground in the near future you will be the first on the scene, believe me!" Thanks Hank. It's always nice to drink from a cup of victory.

By the way, I saw Pappy Landfield mowing around his delicatessen store at the Desert Farmers Market the other day. He's out of the hospital after a six week battle with a coronary.

"I'm still taking it easy, Bill," he said. "And please tell all my friends how thankful I am for their messages of good cheer."

EARL WILSON:

And Whither Godfrey Now?

NEW YORK: I got my crew cut clobbered trying to say a kind word about Arthur Godfrey: "Him and his uke!" exploded a Detroit lady reader. "He can't even hit a note. Like Paul Douglas said, he's a slob. Don't you get disliked by praising Godfrey?"

One reader even allowed I was a swine. There's almost no way you can twist that into a compliment.

Whither Godfrey now? Is he to disappear from TV, too? He's only 53. He likes to work . . . within reason. He'll never retire. They'll have to tote him out of CBS first.

IT'S BECAUSE HIS Wednesday night's going off that folks are wondering about the others, which are doing o. k. "He hates rehearsing and that Wednesday show's got to be rehearsed like a spectacular," I was told.

Now his temper should greatly improve. Anyway, he's always been nice to me. I've phoned him at 6 a. m. on an embarrassing story and got him to talk. That's not uncooperative.

HE WROTE AN introduction for a book of mine, "Earl Wilson's easily recognized," he said. "He has a strange growth on his neck. It's his head."

Of course I never got fired by Arthur or I might feel different. And I never again want to foment any debate over whether he or Paul Douglas is a slob. Because I found out from you gentle souls who the slob was. I was!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Pretty Francine Laine is now a cigarette-camera girl at the Latin Quarter! The redhead song star of the Morey Amsterdam and Oscar Levant TV shows in '54-'55, still young and lovely, can't get back in TV: "They want new faces." Prop. Lou Walters may give her a singing spot at "the club."

Ed Sullivan Trendaxed Steve Allen 22.2 to 20.4. Buster Keaton, just off Ed's show, signed for Steve's May 12 . . . Kate Smith's taking dancing lessons at the June Taylor studios for her TV spec.

JACK OAKIE lost 100 pounds. The Walter Cronkite named him Walter Leland Cronkite 3d so he can get in an Ivy League school . . . John Wayne cabled Bill Holden, new box-office champ, "You sneak!" . . . Sara Aman, ex-Miss Israel, is featured in "The Virtuous Island" here.

Mrs. Brod Crawford agreed to divorce terms . . . Jackie Gleason played the trumpet and led the band at Sammy Kaye's Roosevelt opening. CBS is pleading with JG to stay on weekly next season . . . Harry Belafonte'll make a cowboy movie . . . The Dick Bascherts (Valentina Cortese) will leave Rome for Hollywood . . . Marilyn Monroe's new personal photograph, they say, may be Richard Avedon, of "Funny Face" fame.

THE WHITE HOUSE asked for a print of the "Sgt. Bilko" show to show the Boss . . . Julie Andrews' "My Fair Lady" understudy, Lola Fisher, won a contest at the Hotel Algiers in Miami. First prize: Two tickets to "My Fair Lady."

Danny Kaye and Michael Kidd took notes at the circus; they'll do a big top film next . . . Stripper Lois deFees daughter, 15, must undergo eye surgery . . . Ads for "Hatful of Rain" got the censor's shears — Eva Marie Saint and Tony Franciosa acted too friendly.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . A bachelor's a man with no ties except those that need cleaning.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Lucille Roberts, about her husband Eddie's mindreading patter at the Pierre: "Don't mind my husband's little ones." He doesn't have any big ones."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Any man can tell you that a diamond is the hardest substance known —especially to get back from a girl.

About the only thing left in this world that can be shocked —is grain. . . . That's earl, brother.

A Silver Anniversary party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Willard Price was hosted by Mrs. Geraldine Goodall at her home on "G" Street Sunday afternoon. Among the many friends and neighbors present to make the day a memorable occasion were: Messrs. and Mmes. Paul Clark, L. C. Lewis, Russell Perkins, Hillis Peterson, Norman Wickland and James Wolseth. Also Mrs. Willard Hillery, Mrs. Arthur C. Smith, Miss Agnes Pelton, Jack and Bob Hillery and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis and daughter, Marjorie, of Beaumont, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gray of Banning.

Houseguesting with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Marnell last week was James Ferguson of Los Angeles. Ferguson is district manager for produce with Santa Fe Transportation Company.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fincher were here from their home in Redondo Beach to spend the weekend with the Trenton J. Dunphys. Mr. Fincher is past president of the "Empty Saddle Club" of Rolling Hills near Palos Verdes, of which Mr. and Mrs. Dunphy are members. Sunday Mr. Fincher joined Bill Allred, Jim Shirley, Joe Butler and Jack McCallum in practice "jackpot" roping at the Allred Ranch on Clancy Lane.

Over the weekend Charlie Wilson, accompanied by his niece, Mrs. Josephine Clark, and her children, Jeannie, Terry and Sharon, drove to San Diego, Mexico and Tijuana, running into rain and snow and back to the sunshine of the desert.

Young Don Hallard of Compton arrived Friday to spend a few days at the home of his uncle, Don Veitch. Joining Mr. and Mrs. Veitch for the weekend was another nephew, Bob Veitch and his wife, Mary, of Inglewood.

Guests at the William Massey home in Flying "H" Estates were Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. McNeil of Los Angeles. Mr. Massey and Mr. McNeil left Sunday morning to attend the Grocer's Convention in Phoenix, returning to Los Angeles by air Tuesday morning.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Massey will entrain for New Orleans where they will board ship for a five weeks cruise to the Caribbean.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitmore of Whittier have been at their desert home for the past ten days. Houseguests for a few days were Dr. and Mrs. Hotchkiss of Westchester.

Mobile Home Registration Shows Increase

Registration of new trailers and mobile homes in California during January 1957 totaled 1,286 units, a gain of 51 per cent over the previous month of December, 1956, according to John O'Connor, executive director of the Trailer Coach Association.

The Southern California counties of Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino accounted for 769 units, 59 per cent of the registration. Another 12 per cent was registered in Alameda, Santa Clara, Fresno, Sacramento and Monterey Counties, and the remaining 29 per cent was distributed among 38 other counties.

O'Connor pointed out that these figures include the products of all manufacturers and not those of TCA members exclusively.

Four Optimists To Attend Meet

Cathedral City B.P.W.C. Honored at District Meet

Estelle Reutlinger, Fern Scott and Regina Spencer, president, vice president and treasurer of the newly organized Desert Business and Professional Women's Club of Cathedral City, were guests of their sponsors, the Coachella Valley B.P.W.C. at Hotel Del Coronado over the weekend. The occasion marked the entry of the Cathedral City unit into the Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Scheduling the event was a luncheon Saturday ending with speeches and meetings following breakfast Sunday morning, and ATHOL, Mass. — Robert H. Lawson retired as a telephone company supervisor three years ago and took up tree farming as a hobby. Today he operates a 770-acre tree farm.

NEW PRESIDENT of the Cathedral City Lions Club is local contractor Bert Lamb, who was named for the ensuing year. Elected to other offices were: First vice president, Bill Hendrickson; second vice president, Fred Anderson; secretary, Chuck Linn; treasurer, George Miller; tail twister, Tom Murray; Lion tamer, Chet Matheson, and new directors, Charles McClure and Jim Wolseth. Installation of officers will be held May 9 at Desi Arnaz Western Hills Hotel with past district governor Boynton Jones as installing officer. (Sun Photo).

Split Classes Not Planned at Cathedral City

"Cathedral City school will not have split classes, even though there are persistent reports that it is being contemplated."

Haig Harris, incumbent member to the Palm Springs Unified School District Board of Education, told the Cathedral City Area Business Association that the Board "has not, and does not contemplate the doubling of classes at the school."

Harris was questioned on the matter by Orvil Zappe, who said that he had heard "rumors to that effect."

"We are contemplating the adding of two more class rooms at the school," said Harris, "and we hope that we will be able to work them into our budget for next year."

CC Rotary Club Sets Installation

Cathedral City Rotary Club will hold its annual dinner dance and installation of officers at the Desert Air Hotel tonight. Cocktails are at seven and dinner at eight.

The Founding Father of the local group, Jim Cavett, outgoing president of the Palm Springs Rotary Club will be installing officer.

THE ARCHITECT

A SPECIALIST IN MAKING DREAMS COME TRUE
FOR YOUR COMMUNITY—AND FOR YOU

The Architect not only can make dreams come true in the shape of a new home, a school building, a community center, or a church ... he should be your "partner" from the original planning stage. He is a highly specialized expert in not only the problems of basic construction, but in long-range usage. He can attack your manifold problems not only from a decorative, but a function point of view.

Since your Architect keeps pace with fast-changing trends in design and use of materials, it is only a matter of good judgment to consult with him at the very outset. From the selection of your building site, to the final details of interior finish it will pay you to work shoulder-to-shoulder with an Architect.

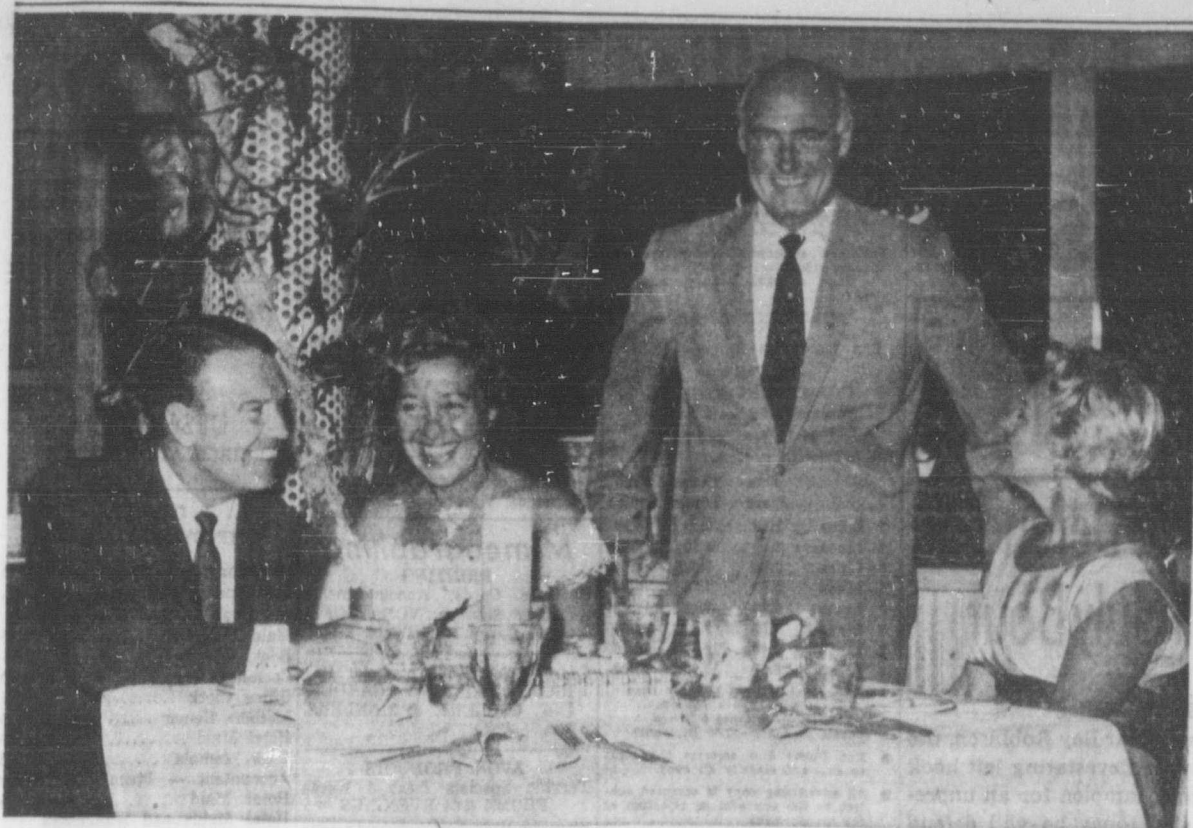

This is a public service message in the interest of a better community for all.

Club Has Crowd Attend Potluck

A hundred members, family and friends attended the annual potluck dinner of Palm Springs Business Women's Club Monday night and lined up at a table laden with specialties prepared by club members. Billie Moseley served delicious coffee to top off the delicious meal.

Entertainment chairwoman Sally Oht presented Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Strickland's fine music and community singing and dancing was enjoyed by all who attended the potluck at the Polo clubhouse.

Mrs. Jules de Vorzon of 1419 San Jacinto Way, who entered Desert Hospital last week for an emergency operation, is doing very nicely and expects to be home sometime this week, it was reported by her husband.

Open House At Hospital On May 12th

Marking the opening of National Hospital Week, the Women's Auxiliary of Desert Hospital will again sponsor an open house at the hospital on May 12, from 2 to 4 p. m.

The open house will provide Villagers an opportunity to visit the hospital and Auxiliary members will act as hostesses for conducted tours arranged by Robert Henwood, hospital director.

Tea and coffee and cake will be served, with doctors' and dentists' wives invited to act as hostesses.

Mrs. Milton Portis is chairman of the Auxiliary committee for the open house. She is being assisted by Mrs. Robert Morrey, Ray Corliss, John Kenaston, John Blish and Jack Gholstin.

Pathfinder Has Last Meeting

Final meeting of the current year for Pathfinder, the group organized this season to assist underprivileged children in the desert area, was held Monday morning in the home of Mrs. Austin McManus, Mrs. S. P. Manassee presided, and gave the group a report on the benefits accomplished by the Pathfinder group for its initial season. She also said the group now is incorporated as a non-profit charity group through the assistance of attorney, Roy Colegate.

The Pathfinders donated $1200 to Angel View Children's hospital in nearby Desert Hot Springs. This included $300 toward the building of a fence around the therapeutic pool; $500 donated by Mrs. McManus through the Pathfinders, which will be used to complete the fence, and $400 for clinical supplies.

Mrs. Thomas Fleming reported on the needs at St. Boniface Children's home in Banning, which also is known as "Boys Town of the Desert." After her talk the group voted to set aside $1500 to be used in the kitchen and dining area of the home.

For the first season the new group has donated nearly $3000 to the two children's groups. Most of the Pathfinders' funds are secured by the local chapter of WAIF, which donated above 50% of its entire intake to be used locally. The Pathfinders staged one benefit of its own, which was a Twilight Cocktail Tea Dansante held at La Paz in March.

Those attending the meeting and were later entertained at luncheon at Howard Manor as guests of Mrs. McManus were: Mmes. Fleming Manasse, William Malouf, president of the local chapter of WAIF; Edwin Fallgren, John Dawson, Belmont Sanchez, George Wheeler, and Miss Beth Scott.

Palm Desert Woman Elected Council Officer

Epsilon Sigma Alpha held its San Revor Regional Council convocation at the Mission Inn in Riverside on April 28, with around 50 in attendance.

Mrs. James Wilshire of Indio and Mrs. Benjamin Constantino of Palm Desert represented the Coachella Valley Chapter at the meeting. Mrs. Constantino was elected vice president in the election which named Mrs. Ted Vogel of Pomona to the presidency.

Election and installation of officers, annual reports and awards were on the agenda for the all day session.

FOR THE SECOND YEAR the Women's Auxiliary of Desert Hospital will sponsor the open house at the hospital which annually marks the opening of National Hospital Week. Meeting at the home of Mrs. Milton Portis on Tuesday afternoon, the committee in charge, made plans for the open house. TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (U.P.)—This is going to be a fractured bit.

In order it will break: Ben Jones' blue suede shoes; Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons' heart; Fearless Fraley's five-year losing streak in the Kentucky Derby and, it is to be hoped, my bookmaker's bank.

Because old Fearless hereafter and forthwith is picking Gallant Man to win Saturday's 83rd running of the jaunt for the mint juleps.

This is, as usual, an annual attempt to remain a member in good standing of the Knock Down the Favorite Club.

Because to list to most folks this is strictly a three-horse gallop among Gen. Duke, Bold Ruler and Iron Liege with the remainder strictly out for an airing on the hope that the big three will enlapse from colic.

ANYBODY WHO ever figures to be anybody in the sports world has to make like an expert in this one. So I'm an expert.

I have to admit, too, that my record in the Derby never permitted any of the readers to retire to a vine-covered cottage, unless things have changed on the other side of the hill.

In the last few years I have had more trouble than the Pittsburgh and Kansas City Athletics combined.

But I'll never give up as long as you have money.

And just to prove that even a blind pig will find an acorn once in a while, let me tell you about 1951. That was the year old Fearless, using his customary scientific methods, came up with Count Turf which won to the merry tune of $31.20. The stiff doesn't know when to quit.

BUT IF YOU promise not to knock down the odds, let me tell you about Gallant Man.

This kid is out of Majdeh by Migoll, which is the way you horse experts talk about his mammy and pappy. Now take it from a boy named Oscar out of a tough neighborhood, anything with family names like those, has to learn early how to fight or run. I can tell you first hand that Oscars and horses don't fight.

Gallant Man can go. His first piece of ground (more horse expert talk) was in the Wood Memorial and he was beaten only a bobbing nose by Bold Ruler.

US experts contend jockey Johnny Choquette made his move too early. It'll be up to Willie Shoemaker, who will sub for Choquette, to make the right move Saturday—and if he doesn't, I'll have to . . . because I've sold my neighbors on it.

But as us experts say: The price is right.

SCGA Amateur Championships at Stake July 17-23

Entry blanks were in the mail today for the 58th annual Southern California Golf Association Amateur Championship scheduled for June 17-23 at the Lakeside Golf Club in Hollywood.

Alan Geiberger of the Montecito Country Club in Santa Barbara is the defending champion in this tournament which is expected to attract a record field to the beautiful and exacting Lakeside course.

QUALIFYING FOR the title fight, limited to golfers in the 0-5 handicap bracket, will be at 36 holes on June 17-18 with the 31 low scorers joining Geiberger in the 36-hole first round matches starting June 19. Geiberger is exempt from the qualifying test. The semi-finals and finals, scheduled for June 22-23, will be over the 36-hole route.

First round losers in the championship flight will form the President's flight. Match play will be at scratch and the semi-finals and finals will be at 36 holes.

THREE FLIGHTS are carded for higher handicap players—Vice President's, 6-10; Secretary's, 11-17; and Directors', 18-36. Qualifying for these groups is also scheduled for June 17-18 with first round matches, all at 18 holes, starting June 19.

Tournament Chairman A. R. McGreggor announced all entries must be filed at the Association's offices at 1709 West Eighth Street, Los Angeles, by June 3. The qualifying field will be limited to the first 500 players entered.

Little Leaguers Looking for Record 1957 Season

128 Rookies Turn Out for First Practice

Another Drill Set for Next Saturday at Polo Grounds

Little League baseball for 1957 was off to a fast start last Saturday when 128 boys—ages 8 to 12—who had never competed in baseball before, turned out for the first practice session of the season at the Polo Grounds.

The session was for boys who had not previously participated in Little League activity. With the boys who played last year and the year before still to be counted, indications were for a record Little League season this year.

NEXT SATURDAY, the newcomers to Little League baseball will have another day at the Polo Grounds. From then on the sessions will be open to all youngsters from 8 to 12 years of age.

Herb Esbitt, president of Palm Springs Little League said.

Directors of the league met Tuesday night to further plans for the coming season. Present were Al Weingarten, Culver Parker and Bill Brubaker, past officers of the Little League which they were instrumental in starting in Palm Springs.

MANAGERS and coaches of teams in the League were also in attendance. They are Mark Hopp, Gene Holmes, Jim Schilling, Shoe Schuman, Ken Wallace, Terry Roach, F. D. Cernel, league treasurer, John Herrera, league commissioner, Howard Haddock, City Recreation Department superintendent and Esbitt, rounded out the meeting.

Board of directors said the policy of the league will be as in the past—the molding of a child's character will come first with a chance for all to participate.

DIRECTORS ALSO voted their appreciation for the efficient jobs Meredith Helm and Red Olier had done in their handling of the Little Leaguers when they were managers.

Both have resigned due to lack of time and, as Esbitt said, the entire community owes them a vote of thanks.

All new Little Leaguers are urged to attend next Saturday's practice session which begins at 9 a.m. at the Polo Grounds.

Interested parents, who wish to assist, are also invited to attend.

Although Calumet Farm's Gen. Duke, still suffered from a body bruised left front foot, he was named for the first of the triple crown classics along with stablemate Iron Liege.

Mister Jive, a last minute entry after news of Gen. Duke's injury spread, still was on route by air from New Jersey at closing time but was expected to arrive shortly.

The others for whom owners paid the necessary $250 to pass through the entry box were Wheatley Stables' Bold Ruler, Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, Kerr Stables' Round Table, Clifford Lussky's Federal Hill, T. Alie Grissom's Shan Pac, William S. Miller's Better Bee, Ada L. Rice's Indian Creek, John L. Appelbaum's Mister Jive.

Riding assignments were completed Wednesday after a last minute scramble by Johnny Kern, trainer of Gallant Man. He had planned to have John Choquette ride the horse but Choquette was given a 10-day suspension.

Nerdud then signed up Willie Shoemaker, who will fly in from California.

Eddie Arcaro, riding his 18th Kentucky Derby and seeking a sixth win, rides Bold Ruler, who now looms as favorite for the race.

Bill Hackett rides Gen. Duke and Dave Erb rides Iron Liege, the entry which fell from the favorite spot when Gen. Duke turned up lame.

DIBLASE, ARCHER SIGN

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Tony Dibase and Jimmy Archer, both of New York, have signed to meet in a 10-round bout at St. Nicholas Arena, May 13.

Congressman Asks Fight On 'Fryingpan'

By D. S. SAUND
29th Congressional District
WASHINGTON—Time is running out on those of us in Imperial and Riverside counties who must take up the cudgels against the Fryingpan-Arkansas Project.

Do you recall this U. S. Reclamation program which would take the snow waters of the upper Colorado River and pipe them across the Rocky Mountains into the Arkansas River Basin of Colorado?

These are the things you should know about the project if you are to join in the fight to block it once again in Congress.

It would rob 29th District growers and townspeople of Colorado River water so vital to our region.

IT WOULD CARRY off so much fresh mountain water that the residue of Colorado River water would be overloaded with salt, making it so mineral-laden that most crops would suffer if it were used for irrigation.

It would have cost the American taxpayers about $156,000,000 a year ago. Today, or tomorrow, with construction costs still mounting, the price tag on the Fryingpan-Arkansas Project would be close to $200,000,000.

Both the 83rd and 84th Congresses defeated the Fryingpan-Arkansas Project authorization bill. Nevertheless, with the backing of President Eisenhower, the House Interior Committee plans to hold new hearings on the measure in early May.

ONLY A RENEWED battle by its foes will defeat the legislation a third time, for it was defeated by only slim margins in the past.

To the people in the rich valleys of Imperial, Coachella, Palo Verde and western Riverside county, defeat of the Fryingpan-Arkansas bill is doubly important. Other regions of Southern California, served by the Metropolitan Water District, ultimately will receive a new water life-line, from the resources of the Feather River in the northern sector of the state.

We, unfortunately, can't look forward with any confidence to the day when Feather River water will be piped to the southeastern tip of California.

THEREFORE, THE Fryingpan-Arkansas Project represents a virtual death blow to our economy.

On the credit side, it appears we shall have the Metropolitan Water District as an ally in the fight. Yet we must organize opposition on our own as well. How do we go about achieving this?

I have written letters to the Imperial Irrigation District, the Coachella Valley County Water District, the Palo Verde Irrigation District, the Western Municipal Water District and the Eastern Municipal Water District. In these I have attempted to outline the grim prospects for us if the Fryingpan-Arkansas Project bill should be enacted into law.

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Chase of Los Angeles are spending three weeks at Sun and Shadow. The Chases love desert living and will, no doubt, establish a home here. Other guests at Sun and Shadow are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Powers of Rancho Santa Fe, Mrs. John J. Murphy, well known socialite of New York City, and her sister, Mrs. Bessie Powers.

Mrs. William P. Mason, mother of Mrs. John Moran, is spending a week or so with the Morans on Fiddleneck Lane.

"Monte Carlo" night at Shadow Mountain Club last Friday night proved to be the "fun" night of the whole month. The Indian Room was set up in the approved Monte Carlo fashion. Phony money was used for gambling and auctions and the sum of a million was mere small change. The Black Jack, Roulette, Wheel of Fortune, Crap and Chuck-a-luck tables were presided over by Ellen Moon, Frank Sorenson, Jack Quesnell, Gladys Hanousek, Elliott Bandini, Jerry Malone, Bill Hanousek, Ross Patten, Patsy Entz, Phyllis Patten, Bonnie Grafflin, Babe Quesnell, Don Entz, Joyce Lytle, Virginia Bartling, John Outcault, Milt Page, Bill Doty, Jerry Tondy, Gene Bartling, Gene Berger, John Moon and Ed Lytle. Cashiers were Betty Page, Kay Malone, Dorothy Sorenson, Mrs. Elliott Bandini and Jan Doty.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Steele leave for a trip east this week. Mr. Steele will go to Washington and Mrs. Steele will visit with her family in Louisiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hagen of Aptos, Calif., were in the desert for a few days. They came down to attend the Luau at Thunderbird Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Peterson of Portland, Ore., have been houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. David Lonie at White Chimneys. Mr. Peterson's daughter is Mrs. Don Lonie. Mr. Peterson is the former mayor of Portland. The grandparents spent many happy hours discussing their grandchildren.

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Benninghoff of San Francisco have been White Chimney guests for several months.

Only three weeks away is the famous Luau at Shadow Mountain Club. May 18 is the magic date. The spectacular show will be given on the giant stage spanning the pool, and this feature really tends to make an authentic Hawaiian atmosphere.

Both Saturday and Sunday nights drew large crowds to the Shadow Room for dining and dancing. Members and their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lykken, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Carpenter, Jr., Mrs. Carrie Witten and guests from Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Welle, Jr., Col. and Mrs. James O'Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hickman and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Addis Downing, Mr. and Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Henius of San Mateo are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Salmon of the Sun Lodge for a few days. Mr. Henius is vice president and head brew master of the Lucky Lager Brewing Co. Other friends visiting the Salmons are Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Evleth and sons, Charles and Richard. Mr. Evleth was vice president of the Honeywell Co. of Minneapolis, Minn.

Capt. Swanson Named Officer Of DOA Group

Capt. Arthur Swanson, U. S. Army, retired, of Rancho Mirage, was today named as senior vice commander of Riverside-Palm Springs area chapter of the Disabled Officers Association.

Other officers elected were Lt. Col. C. F. Rundquist, of Riverside, commander; and Lt. Col. Jay H. Bouton, of Arlington, junior vice commander.

Next meeting of the association, which marked its charter meeting last Saturday, was scheduled for March Air Force Base.

Reserve, National Guard and officers from all branches of the Defense Department retired for war disabilities are invited to join.

Applicants may contact Colonel Rundquist, 3429 Sunnyside Drive, Riverside, or Captain Swanson, Box 374, Rancho Mirage. Telephone 8-3355.

Area Building Tops County

Setting the pace for Riverside County growth, Palm Springs today marked $1,162,972 worth of new construction in its unincorporated area during the month of April.

Area Building Director Charles G. Bixel said the Village area stood second only to Riverside, which saw $1,236,617 in new building for the month.

Construction in all unincorporated county areas was evaluated at $2,294,452 for April, bringing the total construction figure for the first four months of 1957 to an all-time record high of $14,471,756.

NY Coyotes Increasing

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Prof. W. J. Hamilton Jr., Cornell University zoologist, says the coyote, in time, will become established throughout the farmlands of New York State. The animal, common in the Adirondacks, "has now invaded many of the western and southern tier counties," he said.

22-Year Old Mickie Reynolds Selected As Miss Salton Sea

Lovely blond Mickie Reynolds, 22, 5 feet 8 inches tall, was selected from a beach-full of sports-minded beauties at Salton Sea Beach to be Miss Salton Sea of 1957-58.

She will be crowned "Queen of Ski" and will be presented with her gifts at the luau to be held at the Beach House, Salton Sea Beach, on May 18.

THE QUEEN'S PARENTS have a resort at Bishop, where she grew up snow skiing but last year on a seven-week vacation at Bass Lake she learned to water ski and much prefers it to skiing on the snow.

She graduated from San Diego High School and was active on both the baseball and basketball teams. She and her husband, Dr. Richard Reynolds, who practices dentistry in West Covina, plan frequent trips to the Desert Sea this spring and summer.

Right-of-Way Is Second Top Accident Cause

Violation of the right-of-way is second only to speed as a contributing factor to traffic accidents in California, according to accident records maintained by the California Highway Patrol.

"The greater portion of the 'right-of-way' difficulty develops from a negative approach to the problem in actual driving practice," declared Capt. Ruel Blohm, commander of the Indian area office of the patrol. "According to the law 'right-of-way' is the privilege of the immediate use of the highway and sections of the vehicle code establish which driver shall yield.

If motorists would approach each intersection with a cooperative attitude ready and willing to yield to prevent an accident, rather than argue their way through, we would have fewer right-of-way accidents," Captain Blohm continued. "In almost every right-of-way violation there is lack of courtesy or failure to obey the law.

"Whatever the cause, the driver has the power to remedy the situation," he concluded.

Though there are over 500 different species of hummingbirds, the only one you are likely to see east of Texas and the Rockies is the ruby-throat.
